

DOUBLE

LOLIUM PERENNE

Tetraploids have long been known to show better stress and disease tolerance compared to diploids.

Now these advantages are also available in a turf grass variety: Double. In particular in dry conditions Double outperforms diploids. Double is one of the varieties in our 4turf® brand.

Use

Golf courses
Home lawns
Sports fields
Parks & reserves

Sowing Rate

20-40 (g/m²)
(25-35 when oversowing)

Benefits

4n = Big seed - strong seedlings
All-round disease resistance
Ideal mixture partner
(Overseeding)
Superior in dry conditions

Ratings

As Double is less dense than top-quality diploids it makes it easier for Poa pratensis to establish.

All ratings are based on European trial data.

Disease Resistance

Improved disease resistance is observed for rusts, Fusarium and Drechslera.

Perfect Mixture Partner

When combined with diploid perennial ryegrass a perfect overseeding mix is obtained. In mixtures with tall fescue the larger leaves of Double compared to diploids leads to a more homogeneous aspect.

Improved Salt Tolerance

Double has better salt tolerance than most diploids. Have Double in mind when establishing new turf areas!

Seed Size And Vigour

Seed of Double are at least 1.5 times heavier than diploid seed. It makes it easy to seed and gives stronger seedlings with faster establishment. Another argument for using Double in overseeding mixtures.
